A message from your President

First off I would like to thank everyone for the opportunity to be your new MBH President. I look forward to meeting fellow MBH members at upcoming tournaments.

Indoor season is in full swing. We have already been to the MBH Vegas 450, Presley's, and Iowa Pro Am. We missed the Kansas City Shoot Out because we were all four sick...at the same time. Right now we are getting ready to go to Las Vegas for the World Archery Festival. This will be our first time there, but I know of several other MBH members that will be there to help guide us. I have been very impressed with the number of shooters representing Missouri and how well they have been shooting.

The B of R meeting was held at the end of January with several clubs represented. I feel bad for not being able to attend, but we had ice on the roads that morning. I do know that the election votes were counted which resulted in me being elected President, Ryan Fitzgerald is Vice President, and Steve & Candy Bridger are Treasurer and Secretary. The upcoming tournaments were discussed. We are in need of someone to run the tournament at the Missouri Deer Classic. Anyone willing to volunteer please contact one of the MBH officers. Plans are also in the works for the State shoot. We also need volunteers for set up on the Friday before the tournament.

I would like to thank the outgoing officers, they have done a great job and I hope to continue where they left off. I encourage all of you to thank them for their dedication to the sport of archery.

Again I am looking forward to meeting as many of you as I can so please feel free to introduce yourself when you see me out and about.

Jason

Archery and Media: A Possible Match?

Archery has seen lots of publicity over the last year, there is no doubt. Between TV, movies, and the Olympics were all very great opportunities to grow the sport in leap and bounds. But what is the common denominator of these things? They get the sport of archery out to the masses. Not only that, but they all do it through a type of media. Let us look at the this year and really look hard at the possibilities we can take advantage of to grow archery.

Luckily, this idea is shared among many archers. A few proactive shooters and organizations have acted on this idea. The NBC Sports Network has announced a target archery competition show called "Nock Out" is to be aired in the summer of 2013. Simply enough, airing a show that accurately depicts our sport on a channel like NBC Sports is the largest stage a sport can be shown on besides a station like ESPN. Check out the pilot episode on their website, I think you will really enjoy it. Along with that, a group of pros have come together to create "Bow Junky", a social media based archery group that provides coverage of archery tournaments and other aspects of the sport. Their live coverage of these tournaments and events can be found on Facebook and Twitter along with video shortly after the action is over. They do an exceptional job and I anticipate great growth for them in the near future. A few fellow MBH members from the Kansas City area have started a podcast a year or so ago called "Bow Dudes." These guys have a fantastic podcast over many aspects of the sport and mix a good bit of fun into their programs. They can be found on Facebook, Twitter, and iTunes. There have been multiple podcasts arise over the years and all of them provide great information. More and more events are covered on Youtube as well. World Cup events, the Lancaster Classic, and other events have very nice coverage of the tournament action online very shortly after the tournament day is over, normally the evening of the event.

We can take the sport of archery to a whole new level when we can use media (and social media) to promote our sport. Something we can all do is to support the various media outlets that cover archery! Watch, listen, and interact with the groups who make these programs. They all appreciate feedback and ideas on how to improve their programs. We can use this opportunity to grow the sport and make it stronger, make sure you support these folks! Besides, who wouldn't want to see archery tournaments on TV?

Aim Small and God Bless

Remember to get your reports in to me by the end of the day on March 3rd, 2013 to be eligible for the MBH annual awards. I will be at the Missouri Deer Classic in Columbia on March 2nd & 3rd. You can get your antlers scored at the show and then enter the MBH members contest for biggest typical & nontypical bucks taken by an MBH member this season. You can also turn in any other reports for this season at the Deer Classic.

Winners will receive a certificate of achievement suitable for framing, a Bass Pro Shops $25 gift card, and recognition in the MBH Release Newsletter.

MBH annual awards for 2012/13 season will be;
1st Fall Turkey- Be sure to record the date & time of the kill.

1st Deer- Be sure to record the date & time of the kill, we usually get more than one opening day

Last Deer- again we usually get several reports near the end of season.

P&Y Typical Best Buck- Must have a copy of the score sheet from a qualified P&Y, B&C, or MABB scorer. Green score is acceptable. If you need help finding a qualified scorer, give me a call & I might be able to help.

P&Y Non-Typical Best Buck- same as above
Lucky Deer- At the start of the season an average field dressed weight is chosen at random by me. The member that harvests a deer at that weight or closest to it wins the Lucky Deer Award.

Grand Slam Award- If any MBH member fills their Archery Permit (2 deer & 2 Turkey) they will receive this award and one lucky Grand Slammer will be drawn to receive a $25 BPS gift card.

There will be two bowfishing awards given this year. Since these are not available to enter on the web site just send it to me by mail or email or give me a call.

Big Fish Kill- biggest fish kill by weight (all legal species included).

Longest Gar Kill- measured in inches to the closest 1/4".

News From The Stump....

By : Kathy Potter
NFAA Director- Missouri
potter.mbh@cvalley.net

Well, we've survived the Midwestern Pro-Ams and Vegas is now just a memory. Competitive Indoor season is in full swing and our Missouri Shooters are certainly making names for themselves!! Special congratulations goes out to Jackie White and Chris Berry for their Vegas Championship wins! Dan Jasa, Cassie Hancock and Chase Wilson also had top 5 finishes in the their respective divisions. Several other Missouri Shooters took home money in the flights! A special thanks goes out to Mr. Potter who took about 10 years off my life when he made it to the Vegas Championship Shoot-off and finished in 6th place.

Just prior to the Vegas Shoot, the NFAA Directors gathered to walk-thru, debate and vote on a long list of agenda topics. Many thanks to all of you that took time to provide your input via the electronic survey we posted on the MBH website.

Over 280 people responded! I consolidated the results and shared them with the Directors at our meeting any they were referenced on several occasions during our discussions. Log in to the MBH website to view the survey results and my notes that outline the unofficial decisions.

As some of you have already heard. I've elected to step down as the MBH Secretary/Treasurer. Steve Bridger (with much support from his lovely wife, Candy) indicated a sincere desire to take on the role and it was impossible for me to turn down such a great offer.

So what am I going to do with all my spare time? Well, I've volunteered to represent the NFAA and participate on a committee that will investigate opportunities to integrate the NFAA and NAA organizations... where it makes sense to both organizations.

In addition, I'm going to focus on maximizing opportunities to grow MBH and NFAA awareness and memberships across Missouri. Look out, I may be knocking on YOUR door to help with an event or asking for your suggestions and feedback!

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to all of you that have offered your friendship to me over these past few years. It really has been my honor to serve you. I'm excited about having more time to focus on my NFAA Directorship responsibilities! I look forward to growing MBH? NFAA, continuing to strengthen existing relationships and the opportunity to make even more friend during 2013.

God Bless!

CONSERVATION COMMITTEE

Statewide archery deer harvest totals have been published by the Missouri Department of Conservation and the result is 2012-13 was a new record season for archers in Missouri. Archery hunters harvested 53,997 deer during the four month season. That's a 2.5% increase from last year's record harvest. Permit sales also increased by 4.9% to 202,421 archery hunting permits. Missouri Bow Hunters topped 50,000 deer harvested for the third time in the last 4 years. Something interesting happened this season with regard to the top archery harvest counties. For the previous 4 seasons the top counties have all been suburban St. Louis and Kansas City counties. For the 2012-13 seasons we have a new addition to the top three counties. Camden County placed third this season with a harvest of 1,062 deer. Camden County is in the Lake of the Ozarks area with cities like Camden-ton and Osage Beach located within that county.

I know for a fact that Missouri Bow Hunter Lifetime member Jack Davis has been working with the City of Camden to increase the archery hunting opportunities there. This season Jack harvested 4 deer in Camden County. I know that because Jack took the time to send me his Large Game Reports. Those same reports over the years have been used to help open up archery hunting opportunities in other parts of the state as well. We can present data to city officials from actual archery hunting harvests that document things like average distance of shots taken and how far the deer traveled after the shot. Opening up more archery hunting opportunities close to home where firearm hunting is not an option helps control the deer population in our urban and suburban areas. That in turn reduces vehicle-deer collisions and other property damage that an overpopulation of deer can cause. supporting as well as taking part in Conservation here in Missouri. Just because everything is good now doesn't mean it will always be that way.

The "Good Ole Days" of Missouri's Archery Hunting are right now!

Lets all keep it going by doing our part as Missouri Bow Hunter members and promoting our club, archery hunting, and Stay informed about Conservation happenings in Missouri and be a part of the process when you can.

Finally I hope to see you at this year's DEER CLASSIC in Columbia on March 1st & 2nd. Bring your Large Game Reports from this past season and get any antlers from the 2012-13 season scored so they can be entered into MBH's annual Big Buck Contest.

*Happy Bow Hunting

NODAHO BOW HUNTERS, INC.

Are you ready for some A-R-C-H-E-R-Y!?!? Like it or not, a very busy archery season is upon us! Clubs all over Missouri are having their tournaments. Vegas is right around the corner followed by Sectionals, State and Nationals. If "indoor archery" isn't your thing, you don't have to wait too long or travel too far to find a 3-D or Field shoot. Time to get off the couch, travel some and socialize with archers from across the state, nation and even world – no excuse for Winter doldrums, and Spring can't be too far behind.

Nodaho held our January 300 NFAA or 360 Vegas tournament on January 12 & 13. We had a good crowd in spite of losing a few of our regulars to the Iowa Pro-Am. I see several Missouri names who either won or placed high in their classes at this prestigious shoot – way to go Missouri archers! Our results can be found on our web site www.nodahobowhunters.com or on facebook.

Our next shoot, again a 300 NFAA Round or 360 Vegas, will be held on February 9 & 10. If you don't plan on going to Las Vegas we hope you can join us – it is our final indoor tournament of the year since the State shoot falls on our March weekend and many of us will be traveling to Linn to participate.

Hope to see you soon!
