Kelsey Brandkamp took this 140 class 8 pointer with her bow and Dad (Lee Brandkamp) took this great 160 class 10 pointer just a few days later!

Brooke Miller took Presley's Midwest Open by storm in December. Not only did she win the Cub Female Freestyle division... she tied Connie Schrader for the high amateur score!

Time for some INDOOR.

A message from your President ↔

Indoor archery season has officially started! No more trudging through the mud, frozen toes, or countless hours hanging off the side of a tree. Although some will argue that the deer and turkey move a lot less than that little X in the middle of that paper target. Seven clubs hosted the MBH/NFAA state target shoot on December 18th. There were 120 participants this year. That is a 25% increase over last year. Any time you have an increase like that, it is easy to say that it was a success! It would not have been possible without the help and support of many of our MBH members. Everyone seemed to like the multi-location format. It definitely helped save on expenses. We are looking forward to a 25% increase at the State shoot in Linn this March!

It looks like there will be one more free weekend this year in March. At this time there has not been anything finalized concerning the Missouri Deer Classic. More will be discussed at the Board Meeting on the 15th. I will keep everyone posted, just as soon as I find out something.

It's hard to tell just how successful this year's bow season has been. Some people say it was great and have pictures to prove it, while others talk about getting skunked. I'm sure Jack will have all the numbers and reports put together for us real soon. If you have not sent in your large and small game reports, do so now. The information is extremely valuable and your rewards for a successful season make wonderful keepsakes. Please take advantage of this program. It is one of the benefits of belonging to the Missouri Bow Hunters Assoc.

The State indoor will again be held at the Linn Technical Collage in Linn, MO. MBH will have rooms blocked at the Capital Plaza Hotel. I believe the Settle Inn is sold out already. Last year we had a lot of help during the shoot, but was real short handed setting up on Friday. It takes about 6 hours to set up the range for the weekend. Many hands make light work! Please keep that in mind as we get closer to the shoot date.

Have a wonderful 2012! Steve from Cole Duensing... The Archery Family

There are many sports in this world, but there is very few like archery. The act of shooting a bow might not seem like much of a sport to someone not involved, but the truly wholesome part of the sport is deeper than just shooting. It is the human element that really makes the sport so great. This is apparent in a couple different ways. First and foremost, it is the interaction between archers. In no other sport can you see people from across the nation and even around the world and be so close to one another. When you shoot a bow, you are a member of a family and you automatically have a connection with anyone else in that family. There isn't a tournament I go to where I don't meet one, if not multiple people who are some of the best people I have ever met! Not only does the archery lifestyle show its self on the range, but it also carries over to other parts of life. It is common place for shooters to join other shooters after tournaments for dinner, travel together, and even share hotel rooms. How many sports do you think have participants that are that open and friendly to others? Very few if any would. Not only has shooters socialized in person, they also use technology to communicate and converse about archery. Numerous groups are now formed on Facebook where archers can discuss shoots, products, hunts, and anything else with other archers. Not only has the archery family grown on the world wide web, it has spread to school aged archers. Now that 4H and NASP have promoted the shooting sports, in this case archery, students now feel a sense of family and belonging with other kids their age. To see a group of students, ranging from 4th grade or so all the way up to a senior in high school sharing a common bond through archery is great to see. This is the key to promoting the future of the sport and is arguably the most important aspect of these programs. The other human element of the sport is everyone's perspective of the sport. To some, it's a way to get away from the stresses of life while someone else might use it as a way to improve their skills with the bow. Either way around, there is others who share the same perspective. If one is looking to improve their spot shooting game, there is always someone in the sport willing to help others improve themselves. If one is at a shoot to just have a good time, there is never a lack of fellow archers to join them in having a great time. The sport of archery is one that everyone can find enjoyment in. Once a shooter begins their journey into the greatest sport in the world, they join a family that spans the entire world and will leave a dull moment.

Aim Small and God Bless

Jeanette Brookshier, Secretary

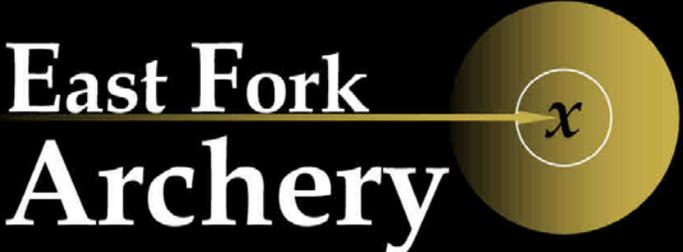

Our December 10 & 11 shoot (results posted on our web site www.nodahobowhunters.com) went very well one week prior to the MBH/NFAA sanctioned shoot on December 18 (results posted on the MBH website). As one of the six host clubs for this event, we were pleased to have 23 participants at our range in Northwest Missouri, and some State Champions as well.

By the time you read this, our first league of the season will be over and our 2nd league starting up. The first three months of the New Year is always busy with a flurry of activity as archers prepare for many upcoming shoots – Vegas, State & Nationals, and other varied tournaments.

We are also offering archers a choice when they participate in our indoor tournaments. They can choose to shoot a 360 Vegas round OR a regular NFAA target 300 Round. If they want to shoot two lines, they can even participate in both (providing they pay again, of course). We have found that many want more exposure to the Vegas targets and scoring.

We wish you and yours a very Happy New Year!!

Northside Archers St. Louis, Mo.

by Bob Brumbeck

Well, by the time that you read this it will be 2012. We here at Northside Archers hope that each and every one of you that read this will have a very Happy New Year. May the coming year bring you health, and prosperity. We will try to keep true to our friends and wish each and everyone the best in their hunting and all archery activities.

My old bones do not like the cold weather hunting anyhow, but I would like to try to get out a few more times. I do not think that is going to be possible, as my wife had knee surgery in August and we just got her about over that, and she fell and broke the ankle in two places. So I am back to nursing again.

We have had a lot of fun so far this year at our indoor league. A lot of our shooters have improved a great deal, and our league is doing fine. I just wish my shooting would improve.

Here at Northside our first half of league is over. The winners of first half will be published next month.

Our second half of league will begin last Tuesday evening. We are shooting the 300 Round this half. We will be taking two weeks off for the holidays and then back in January.

I would like to thank the St. Louis Bowhunters for letting Cathy Ball for keeping the JOAD program at their indoor range going. When I am at home and have nothing going I enjoy helping out the youngsters. I don't know, but archery may be making a come back.

By the time this comes out the year will be 2012 and again, we wish that you all had a Merry Christmas and have a Happy New Year.

We have had one deer archery and one turkey harvest turned in at Northside so far. Rich Noble got a nice eight point buck and a turkey within ten minutes.

My son-in-law also was able to take two deer in ten minutes over in Illinois.

On the last shotgun season in Illinois, someone got a thirty point doe just west of town where my wife was born and raised.

Well, not too much else right now again, so maybe we will see you around at some of the indoor tournaments. Good luck and good shooting.

St. Louis Bowhunters

We would like to thank everyone that came out and competed in our 300 Round Tournaments on December 4, 2011. The turnout was all right for this time of year. We understand that most people were out in the woods looking for Mr. or Mrs. Forked feet (that's deer for city folks) Some good scores were shot overall.

The reason we have such a long floating registration time from 8:00 am to 12:00 pm is so that people that want to attend church first can do that and still have time to come out and shoot if they want to. I was busy taking care of my wife, this time, so I did not get to shoot.

Here are some of the places anyway.

Thanks again to everyone who came out and participated. Thanks also to ones for running the shoot. Maybe we will catch you at our next one.

As of this article, 35 deer/ turkey reports have been turned in by only 12 members.

Wild venison has less fat than free ranging beef, which sells for anywhere from $7 a pound for ground meat to $30 for steaks. That puts the food value of Missouri's white-tail deer resource in the neighborhood of $200 million per year. Missouri's deer resource also supports 11,000 plus jobs and generates more than $1 billion in business activity annually. Source: Jim Lowe MDC. News From The Stump...

By

Kathy Potter

NFAA Director- Missouri

potter.mbh@cvalley.net

Happy New Year!!... thanks to everybody that came out to support, shoot at or help run the NFAA sanctioned MBH State Indoor tournament last month. There were a lot of helping hands across the 7 shooting locations that contributed to the event's huge success. Each and every one is very much appreciated!

Every other year, NFAA Directors convene at the Las Vegas Shoot location for a meeting to discuss and vote on issues that have been placed on the agenda for review. 2012 is one of those years and I'm asking for feedback from our NFAA/MBH members regarding the agenda topics to be discussed!!

There are some really important topics this year and way too many to include in this report. Some of the agenda items include proposed changes in scoring, creation of a new recurve pro class, a new longbow division and the proposal to move from a printed to online publication.

To view a complete list of all the items that will be addressed, go to the NFAA website at www.fieldarchery.org and select Documents from the sidebar menu. Go to the bottom of the list and click on the document titled 2012 Agenda Items- Complete.

I really want to know what you think about the topics that will be discussed. Your feedback will be communicated to the Directors that are reviewing these items... so here's your chance to be heard!!

I hope you will take the time to review the agenda topics, give them your thoughtful consideration, then tell me what you think. You can email your comments to me at potter.mbh@cvalley.net. You can also call and leave a message on my cell phone at (660) 651-3175.

If you interested in developing your shooting skills, growing your knowledge of the sport or just want to start thinking outside Missouri state boundaries, please consider becoming part of the NFAA family!

Until next month... God Bless!

Conservation Committee

I was reminded recently by a fellow MBH member about a condition that we all struggle to deal with on occasion- Apathy. Apathy is a state of indifference, or the suppression of emotions such as concern, excitement, motivation and passion. To me the word apathy when used in the same sentence as bow hunting would be an Oxymoron ;(figure of speech that combines contradictory terms) because bow hunting has a lot of passion, motivation, concern, and excitement involved to be successful. Successful Bow Hunters spend countless hours practicing, scouting, and hunting to harvest the game they pursue. Not to mention the hundreds if not thousands of dollars we spend on our bows, arrows, optics, stands, clothes and travel.

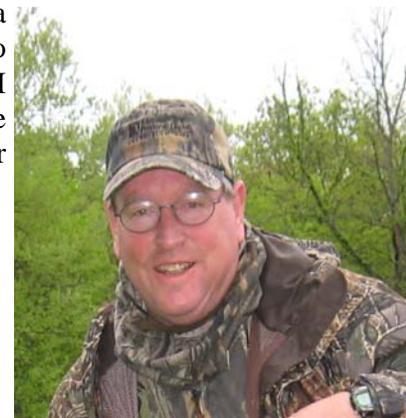

How would the word apathy ever apply to an MBH member? We become apathetic in our duties as an MBH member. I know that archery is an individual sport and one of the reasons I love bow hunting is because I control my own success or failure. I am totally responsible for the outcome, good or bad when I release an arrow at a target. However as a bow hunter and a member of MBH I have a responsibility to be concerned, motivated, and passionate about conservation, rules, regulations, the environment, education, and the promotion of archery and bow hunting in the state of Missouri. Many of you may not know that MBH has been directly involved with the Missouri Department of Conservation and the Conservation Federation of Missouri since our establishment in 1947. In fact the nomination of MBH hall of famers Paul Jeffries and Earl Hoyt were just approved by the Conservation Commission as the newest members of Conservation Hall of Fame!

So don't be an apathetic MBH member. Get involved with your local MBH archery club, attend a MBH state shoot, submit a harvest report, look into joining the Conservation Federation of Missouri and attend the annual convention in February, recruit a new member to MBH, attend an MBH board of representatives meeting, and above all communicate with your MBH officers.

Hunting season update- Harvested my third doe of the season on 12/21/11. I made an excellent shot (if I do say so myself) on a quartering away deer at 42 yards.

However, the next day I watched my $10 lightednock on a $15 carbon arrow with a $12 broadhead attached sail over a turkey (that was roosted in a tree 30 yards away) and into the Missouri River. So I guess I will be eating a little Crow instead of Turkey for Christmas this year.

Happy Bow Hunting!
